'73 Cars To Debut At Dismukes Ford

An all-new Ford car, significant improvements in other car lines, and new Ford pickup trucks with the most extensive changes in six years highlight Ford Division products for 1973, according to Ford Motor Company representatives.

Cars will make their debut in DISMUKES FORD's dealership in Enterprise on Friday, September 22, and trucks Friday, September 29. Availability of all vehicles is subject to Federal emissions certification.

Any year in which the big Ford over-the-hill-butler car, and our pickup trucks are new just has to be a banner year," said Herman Dismukes, owner of the dealership.

Service Pins Given

The Civilian Personnel Division at Ft. Rucker has presented 47 length of service pins during the fourth quarter of Fiscal Year 1972.

Those on Elba earning 10-year length of service awards were: Douglas A. Gibbs and Jack B. Moore, from DIO, Patsy Mathis, from Office of Direct-orate of Personnel and Community Activities.

Sandra P. Walden of New Brockton, from Department of Advanced Flight Training, also received a 10-year service award.

GIBBS MOORE

The voters of Elba, 927 of them at least, let it be known who would serve the next four years on the Elba City Council. Elected in the run-off election were: Ronnie D. Vaughan, Place No. 1; Sam E. Sawyer, Place 2; and Ben Carpenter, Place 3.

Sawyer will be the only incumbent councilman returning to office. Three others, Mace Cook, Charles Jacobs and now Cleo Hawkins failed to win reelection. Councilman Bonnie Morrow didn't seek reelection. Therefore, Sawyer and incumbent Mayor Jack Brunson will be the only "old heads" left when the new council takes office in October.

Charles Ellis and Owen Zular were elected in August, and didn't have to face a run-off this week.

The vote count from Tuesday's election was: Virgil Coleman, 316 votes; Ronnie D. Vaughan 611 votes. They were voting for Place 1. For Place 2, Marvin McIlwain received 431 votes and Sam E. Sawyer got 482 votes. Ben Carpenter received 397 votes for Place 5 and Cleo Hawkins received 427 votes.

FT. RUCKER SEEKS FOUR EMPLOYEES

The Civilian Personnel Office at Ft. Rucker is recruiting to fill four job vacancies. The positions are one part-time chef, with an annual salary of $7,319, and three waiters or waitresses, needed intermittently, with pay at $1.67 per hour.

Interested persons should contact the Civilian Personnel Office, Ft. Rucker, Alabama, Building 8604, telephone 255-6209. Information on qualification requirements and types of appointment will be furnished upon inquiry.

Cattlemen Attend Field Day

The demonstration showed, how to select breeding stock and the value of cross-breeding for commercial uses.

In the lower photo, a group look over Mr. Larkins' bulls and discuss the characteristics of each.

First Baptist Announces Revival

On Wednesday, September 20, First Baptist Church of Elba will begin their Fall Revival services at 7:30 P. M. The special meetings will be held at this time nightly Wednesday through Sunday, September 20-24. Rev. Dennis Wood, Assistant Pastor at the Dauphin Way Baptist Church of Mobile, Alabama, will be the guest evangelist, and Mr. Neil Sherouse of Birmingham, Alabama, and Minister of Activities at the Arlington Baptist Church will be leading the music.

Special activities have been planned during the week, such as a hot dog supper for fourth, fifth and sixth graders on Thursday evening at 6:00 P. M. in the church dining hall; a spaghetti supper for all the youth at 6:00 P. M. in the church dining hall on Friday; a snack breakfast for adults and youth on Saturday morning at 9:00 A. M. in the church dining hall; and encounter groups will be held after the evening services for the youth in various homes to be announced later. The church revival choir will meet prior to each service at 6:30 in the choir room. A nursery will be provided for small children each night of the evening services.

The public is cordially invited to attend these special services at the First Baptist Church of Elba located on Simmons and Polk Streets. Robert K. Davis, Jr., is pastor of First Baptist Church, and Robert S. Holliman is Minister of Music and Education.

Troopers Check No Accidents

The Alabama State Troopers investigated 176 rural traffic accidents with 84 injuries and 3 fatalities from 6:00 P. M. Friday through 12 Midnight Sunday. These fatalities occurred, 1 each in Russell, Mobile and Blount Counties.

These accidents bring the number of people killed in rural traffic accidents in Alabama this year to 614 compared with 570 killed during the same period of time last year for an increase of 44 fatalities.

Troopers of the Dothan District investigated 12 accidents with 11 injuries and no fatalities during this weekend period. The Dothan District has 45 fatalities so far this year as compared with 52 at this same time last year.

Coffee County Troopers investigated no accidents this week-end with no injuries and no fatalities. So far this year 9 persons have been killed in motor vehicle traffic accidents in this county as compared with 6 killed during the same period last year.

"If absence makes the heart grow fonder, these people love their church."

More Support For Unit System

The Coffee County Grand Jury, Enterprise Division, empaneled on August 31, 1972, examined 39 presentments, and returned 30 indictments, all felonies. They returned one case to Superior Court and continued three matters for additional investigation. Other reports included results of Courthouse and Health Center inspections, one from Police Chief Howard Murdock, and one from Judge James Sawyer pertaining to the so-called "unit system" in the county.

Needs of the Courthouse were reported as follows: Janitorial service and a switch to turn off two large fluorescent lights in the County Agent's Office; repainting of the Tax Assessor's Office; storage of items in the hall in proper areas; cleaning of both men's and ladies' restrooms; cleaning, repairing and locking of fuse box on stair case on north side of building to take care of hazard of electrocution; repairing of a hole in the ceiling of the old Probate Office; and repainting of this ceiling/fire escape for the third floor.

The Grand Jury commended the Court of County Commissioners on the condition of the Health Center, finding that much progress had been made and is still being made on this building since title to the building was vested in the County and out of the city of Enterprise. They recommended a parking lot for the Health Department.

Chief Murdock reported that the Alabama Law Enforcement Planning Agency has approved a police training facility at Enterprise State Junior College. The Grand Jury thanked that Agency and Governor George Wallace for locating the facility at Enterprise, which is centrally located for the area, realizing the benefits to the police and citizens of Southeast Alabama.

From explanation by Judge Sawyer of the unit system in use by various counties in the state for road construction and maintenance, the Grand Jury unanimously agreed that this system should be employed by this county. They said:

"We understand and are told by some that such a system would remove from the Court of County Commissioners all of their individual authority with regard to the use of county equipment, which is absolutely wrong, because they would still be charged with the overall operation of every function of Coffee County including the building and maintenance of our roads. We feel unanimously that this system would afford a means for the equitable construction of roads and maintenance of roads with better availability of equipment to meet emergencies caused by natural disaster such as floods, tornadoes, or hurricanes. It further appears to us that the use of this system would afford a great monetary savings to the tax payers of this county. We strongly recommend that the Court of County Commissioners pass the necessary resolutions to put this County into a unit system of operation with regard to construction and maintenance of roads, and we further recommend to our Legislative Delegation Mr. Easters, Representative and Mr. Dozier, Senator, that legislation be passed requiring such."

SPORTS

with JOHNNY MARTIN

The 1972 college football season started last week, with the always-expected, unexpected upsets taking place everywhere. Perhaps the biggest one was UCLA's 20-17 victory over Nebraska, everybody's favorite to win a third straight national championship. But a second glance at this score could unveil another favorite for the national champion, the UCLA Bruins.

Alabama, as they always do in the first game of the season, showed no signs of being a really powerful football team. But this year's will be typical of all Tide teams. It probably won't reach its peak until late in the season, when titles are on the line. Duke moved the ball well on what was supposed to be Alabama's best defensive team in years, but could not take advantage of Alabama's mistakes. On the other hand, depth on offense and defense and the always superb coaching are the Tide's strong points, and this team is my favorite for the SEC crown.

As for Auburn, there were many more pleasant surprises than there were disappointments in the victory over Mississippi State. It was the "three yards and a cloud of dust" offense that the War Eagles displayed, and we have to admit it's less exciting than in years past. But tailback Terry Henley has to be an all-star candidate, and Randy Wallis is a "cool cookie" of a sophomore. His strength and ability to run the option fit right into Auburn's 1972 offensive style.

Elba High School's victory over Laverne last Friday night, although less impressive than people consider what Coach Randy Griffin is doing in his first year as head coach. Except

Zion Chapel Wins Over Louisville 17-6

Zion Chapel began the '72 season with a win over Louisville Friday night in Louisville. The Rebels came from behind Friday night to win their first game of the 1972 season over the Red Devils of Louisville, 17 to 6.

Louisville drew first blood when they recovered a Rebel fumble inside the ten yard line in the second quarter. Two plays later the Red Devils had a 6 to 0 lead. Zion Chapel began a march that covered some 50 yards late in the second quarter with Robert Boyd carrying the last 12 yards and the score, Stan Compton kicked the PAT and Zion Chapel was forced to punt and Zion Chapel moved back down the field close enough for Stan Compton to kick an 18-yard field goal with only a few seconds left in the first half. The Rebels sent in at half time out front 10 to 6.

The second half was a defensive battle with neither team being able to move the ball with a lot of success. Louisville made only one first down in the second half and three for the game. Then late in the fourth period Zion Chapel began to move the ball and marched some 60 yards for the final score. Gary Sewell carried the last 32 yards for the six points and Compton again booted the point after to make the score 17 to 6.

Zion Chapel had 113 yards rushing, 54 yards passing and 8 first downs. Rusty Wambles, Robert Boyd, and Gary Sewell were the runners for Zion Chapel while Phil Rugg completed 3 of 9 passes for the 54 yards.

Kearns To Speak At Export-Import Conference

Henry Kearns, Chairman, Export-Import Conference for the United States, Washington, D.C., October 18-19, 1972. The conference is being sponsored by the Small Business Administration and eighteen other organizations.

Paul R. Brunson, District Director, Small Business Administration, Birmingham, said the purpose of the conference is to enlighten Alabama small businessmen to the merits of exporting and to motivate them to explore the potential of world markets. Many small manufacturers and suppliers of service sell their products successfully and exclusively to our domestic markets. For various reasons, they have not examined the potential and opportunities in exporting. Others have taken a passive attitude and respond to a foreign inquiry only reluctantly. If at all. Yet, selling in international markets is a logical extension of domestic sales activities.

Alabama has undergone an economic transition from an agricultural to an industrial economy. The state now ranks 25th in the nation in exporting manufactured products, with only approximately 400 firms now actively engaged in selling internationally. "Obviously," Brunson said, "We are not realizing our full potential." "If the state is to have a balance of trade, a sound export program must be developed. Leaders in industry must orient their thinking in terms of world markets, in addition to the markets at home."

Brunson said that development of world trade by small businesses is dependent upon proper identification, analysis, and solutions to problems in-

This year's Olympic Games in Munich, Germany had to be the event with the biggest "political black cloud" hanging over it in the history of sports. Since practically every nation in the world participated in the Olympics, maybe that's inevitable. But it seems that the original purpose, that of every nation uniting in meaningful but friendly competition, was completely destroyed by the political shadow over the games. Everyone knows that Israel received the blunt of the blow, but it isn't exactly representative of the United States when an athlete refuses to recognize our flag. Shameful, that's too nice a word for this action.

REV. EDWIN R. SELLS

PASTOR'S CORNER

This past Sunday, I was confined to home with an infected throat. My voice was hoarse and it was best that I not use it. As I turned on the radio at eleven o'clock to worship with the First Baptist Church, I was reminded of how wonderful it is to be able to be in worship personally. I appreciated this means of worship. As for myself, I was quite miserable all day long because I really missed being there. And yet, I realized that lots of people stay home every Sunday who really could be there. As for myself, I was quite miserable all day long because I really missed being there. And yet, I realized that lots of people stay home every Sunday who really could be there.

The Psalmist says in the 96th Psalm, "O come, let us worship and bow down, let us kneel before the Lord, our Maker." I feel that any Christian will want to go to God's House for worship and study. I feel that it is my Christian responsibility. It is an essential part of the spiritual diet of a growing Christian. Millions of Christians attest that life is lived at its best when the spiritual fires are kept kindled. Part of worship is the giving of thanks to God. But we share also through singing hymns and reading responsive prayer from His Word. We ought to go to church to ask forgiveness. We should pour out our hearts to Him and seek His strength for the new week. There are 17ers who join us in this prayer of repentance. Our conscience needs to be tuned to God and this comes through this experience.

We need to go to God's House because there we find those who share dependence upon Him. All of us feel lonely sometimes, especially when we are with the wrong kind of people. When we are in fellowship with other Christians there comes a new sense of strength. There are companions there who believe in you and share His Spirit with you. We need to go to church to find others who share our belief in God. A congregation of dedicated Christians is a real threat to Satan. A half hearted church is only a partial threat. We need to let others know of our stand for the right. Certainly we should go to God's House to listen to His message for us. God should be the central figure of the worship service—not the preacher or the choir. They are only instruments used to point us toward God. To worship God is to listen to His Voice above the murmurings of the world. Prove your faith by attending worship next Sunday. You will be finer for it.

Vietnam Vets To Receive Help Under Improved GI Bill

In 1944, even before World War II was over, our grateful nation provided its millions of veterans a GI Bill of Rights, making available to them a variety of benefits but with particular emphasis on education. Provisions of the Bill have been extended to veterans of the Korean War and also to Vietnam Veterans.

Success of the GI Bill isn't measured only in the millions of men and women who made use of the bill's provision, because for every $1 invested in educating a World War II veteran, for example, it has been estimated that the Treasury has gotten back up to $10 in additional taxes than would have been paid had they not been educated and provided with increased earning power.

The GI Bill not only does the bill establish realistic levels of financial help to our Vietnam veterans, it is designed to encourage the veteran to seek further education and vocational training by paying a substantial portion of the costs. But the basic assistance level for the Vietnam veteran is far below that provided the Korean veteran and the result has been that he has been denied the benefits comparable to those given his World War II and Korean war counterparts. It is unseemly for men who have fought through the mud, mire and filth of Southeast Asia to return home to half-filled promises as their reward for doing a good job.

I am pleased that so many of our veterans have made such good use of this program. Almost 250,000 Alabama World War II and Korean war veterans received training under the GI Bill and about 50,000 veterans were educated and trained under its provisions. In addition, there are 18,000 Alabama veterans now enrolled in various education programs. The great disappointment is that more of our veterans have not continued their education or taken advantage of the vocational training provisions of the bill.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION REFORMS

STATE WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION PROGRAMS

A national commission recently has made several recommendations for improving workmen's compensation laws. Workmen's "comp" was the pioneer social reform passed in the early part of this century at the initial suggestion of business and industry. It is a form of insurance which pays the costs of on-the-job accidents, including medical and lost wages.

Workmen's "comp" is not a federal program. Instead it is administered by the states, which have differing standards and benefits in order to better serve local needs. The commission recommends that the states retain control, but that all state laws should meet a list of 80 different federal standards by 1975.

Included are recommendations for full pay of the injured worker's wages up to a maximum of 100 percent of the state's average weekly wage, elimination of limits on duration or total amounts, compulsory and full coverage for work-related diseases, provision for full medical care and physical rehabilitation services, and allowing employees to file claims either in the state where they are injured, where they are hired, or where the employment is localized.

DEAR SENATOR SPARKMAN: I expect to retire next month and my wife and I would like to travel throughout the United States to see the many places we were unable to see for so many years. In this regard, I would like to ask you how I may apply for the so-called Golden Eagle Passport which would entitle me to enter National Parks free of charge.

SPARKMAN: The Golden Eagle Passport will not be available until January 1973. In the meantime, however, I understand that all you need to do is let us know that you are over 62, and you will be entitled to enter all fee-free national parks free of charge.

Q: I have already earned $1500 of Social Security benefits. Will my parents still be able to claim me as a dependent next year?

A: No. Unemployment benefits paid to you by a state are generally not taxable. However, payments made by a state to a state employee, not covered by the state's unemployment compensation laws, are taxable under a comparable federal unemployment compensation law.

Q: I have been employed by a company for 10 years. I am now 62 years old. I am considering retiring. What are my options regarding Social Security?

A: If you are a state employee, you may be able to retire with your state pension. If you are a private employee, you may be able to retire with your Social Security benefits.

Olympic Games Suffer From Intrusion Of Politics

Although the Olympic games have been beset from their beginning this year with political wrangles, who could have guessed that the 20th Olympics would be the scene of wholesale political murder.

The whole world watched in disbelief as an international drama of politics and violence unfolded and a hand-to-hand struggle between the United States and the Soviet Union in the sports-lover's dream into a nightmare of slaughter.

Some people say we really should have expected something like that. It is the day of terror, because the Olympic games, despite their ideals of peace and brotherhood and athletic purity, have suffered from the intrusion of politics since the time of Nero.

Until now, the best remembered and cruelest politicization of the Olympics came in 1936 when Adolf Hitler refused to accept the Olympic Games in Germany unless the United States and the Soviet Union were excluded.

DEAR SENATOR SPARKMAN: I expect to retire next month and my wife and I would like to travel throughout the United States to see the many places we were unable to see for so many years. In this regard, I would like to ask you how I may apply for the so-called Golden Eagle Passport which would entitle me to enter National Parks free of charge.

SPARKMAN: The Golden Eagle Passport will not be available until January 1973. In the meantime, however, I understand that all you need to do is let us know that you are over 62, and you will be entitled to enter all fee-free national parks free of charge.

Q: I have already earned $1500 of Social Security benefits. Will my parents still be able to claim me as a dependent next year?

A: No. Unemployment benefits paid to you by a state are generally not taxable. However, payments made by a state to a state employee, not covered by the state's unemployment compensation laws, are taxable under a comparable federal unemployment compensation law.

IRRIGATION

I talked this week with Joe Stokes and Doc McCarty of the Pine Level community about irrigation. Both of these men are making a ton of peanuts per acre and are well pleased. However, both agree that they could have made a lot more peanuts had they gotten more rain.

The leads me to the thought that perhaps irrigation could be highly profitable for a lot of Coffee County farmers. With the type irrigation being used nowadays, it could be used on any kind of land. It is relatively easy to move from place to place. It could stabilize yields of corn, peanuts and small grains. In fact, on a lot of farms it could almost revolutionize agricultural production.

The fall of the year is the time to make plans for an irrigation system. We have a specialist on our staff at Auburn named Charles Ogden who can work with individual landowners in designing the best systems. The irrigation folks also have a specialist staff. Call on us if you are interested and would like to have a discussion of the possibilities.

PECANS

Reading the newspaper a few days ago, I came across an article about coach Ralph Jordan at Auburn planting pecan trees at his home in Auburn back in 1951. The story also said that Coach Bill Fitcher, head coach at Georgia Tech, had bought a home in Atlanta and planted some pecan trees. If these folks who hardly know where they are going from one year to the next can plant pecan trees, I know that Coffee County folks ought to be planting some.

Hayward Watkins of Enterprise called me about planting pecans. Now is the time to make your plans because they need to be set in December and January. He asked if some of the nurseries would consider setting trees on a contract basis. I have a feeling that some of our nurseries in the county at so much a tree. If such an arrangement could be worked out, a lot of people who hate the thought of digging a big hole could let the nurserymen do it and get the job done.

Leon and Viletta Bailey of the Curtis community are interesting folks to talk to. They are doing an excellent job of farming and livestock production. One of the things we talked about was their super saver peanut picker. It may be that in the years ahead this will be a popular attachment and will help save a lot more peanuts, especially in bad years. This is the second year that the Baileys have used this extra equipment. The only disadvantage I see is that they are expensive and also at the present time it takes quite a while to get repair parts. However, I am sure that within a year or two these problems will be solved.

Improvements in equipment, weed killers and disease control continue to be made each year.

LEADERS

I have to pinch myself to believe that 85 of Coffee County's finest women and men have signed up to be volunteer 4-H Club leaders. They will be conducting 4-H Club work under the leadership of the schools and Extension agents Dan Presley and Sandra Coffey.

On the other hand, I am not too surprised because I know first hand how cooperative the people in this great county are. These leaders know that this program is exciting and demanding and significant. If they give their spare time to something, it would have to meet these conditions to earn their support.

Elba Defeats Luverne In Gridiron Meeting

MICKLE (41) TAKES FLOWERS HAND-OFF

SOMEWHERE UNDER THERE IS AN ELBA TIGER BALL CARRIER

The Elba Tigers under new Head Coach, Randy Griffin, chalked up their second win of the new season last Friday night by defeating Luverne by a score of 14-2. The Tigers from Elba repeatedly stopped Luverne drives deep in Elba territory to stay in the winning column.

The only score Luverne was able to make was when Tommy Morgan blocked a Jimmy Bailey punt and it rolled into the end zone for the two point safety.

Scoring for Elba were Jimmy Bailey on a completed pass from Quarterback Wayne Flowers and Steve Daniels who plunged over the center of the line from one yard out. Don Rhodes kicked both extra points for Elba.

The first Elba score came in the second quarter shortly after Steve Daniels swept his right end and crossed the goal line just inside the sideline marker. This play was called back on a penalty and Quarterback Flowers went to the air two plays later and hit Jimmy Bailey over the center of the line for a good six points. Rhodes added the PAT.

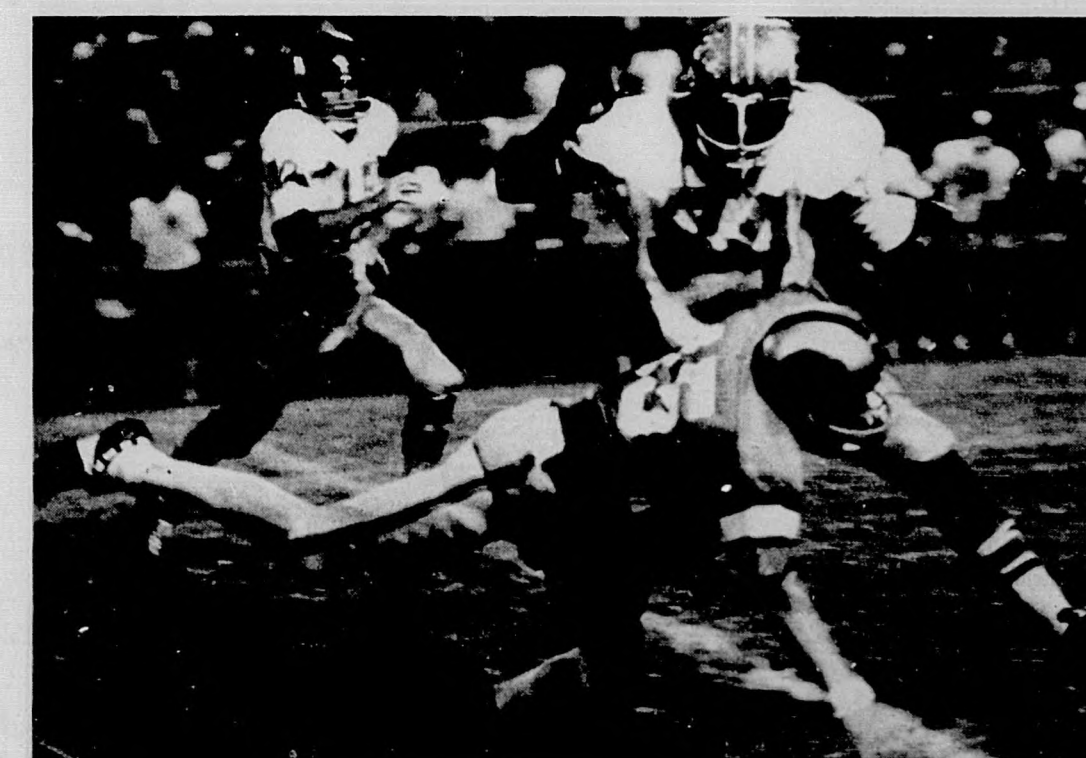

The game score stood at 7-0 until Luverne blocked the Bailey punt in the third quarter. The Elba defensive line continued to show fine form as they stopped Luverne drives, forced fumbles and generally controlled the game.

The only other Elba score came when Steve Daniels literally leaped over a mass of Elba and Luverne linemen for six points from the one-yard line. Again Rhodes added the PAT. The game ended with Elba winning 14-2.

The Elba Tigers play host to the Opp Bobcats this Friday night in the first of six home games for the Elba Tigers. Game time is 7:30 according to school officials.

Elba will be going into the game with two wins and no losses while Opp has lost to Troy and Florala, both games being played in Opp.

Strong Elba football supporters are concerned that the Opp team will be fighting hard for a win this week due to their record of losses, a record that is not considered acceptable by anyone from Opp—fan or player.

The Roaming Tiger

Every Sunday six-year-old Anne pestered her parents to read the comics over and over to her. The Sunday before her first day of school she didn't ask anyone to read the comics, even once.

Finally, her curious mother and father asked her why she didn't want them to read the comics. "School starts tomorrow," Anne smiled confidently. "When I get home tomorrow night, I'll read them myself."

Current Info

The politicians don't campaign much in Washington because TV sets are A.C.; Washington, of course, is D.C.

Miss Hall Marries Mr. Foreman

The marriage vows of Miss Brenda Gay Hall and John H. Foreman were exchanged at 6:30 o'clock in the evening, September 2, at Westside Baptist Church, in a lovely candle-light ceremony. Dr. James Southern, interim pastor, officiated. The parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Baker, organist, rendered wedding music as guests arrived, and played the Wedding March as the bride and groom entered.

After a short wedding trip to New Orleans, Louisiana, the couple will reside in Elba where the bride is employed with National Security Insurance Company, and the groom with the P-ople Bank.

The groom's parents entertained with an after-rehearsal supper at the Country Club with 26 guests enjoying a delicious meal.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Guilde of Napoleon, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. George Craft of Elba.

FURNITURE

Old-fashioned, feminine rattan and wicker are popular again. Wicker furniture is stylish for every room in the house and is available for the living room, dining room, bedroom, nursery and the garden. Shoppers have a wide variety to choose from, ranging from a collection of contemporary furniture in Canadian white birch veneers with rattan-trim bases to a wicker garden house with pagoda top and open sides.

A wicker collection for the living room includes a circular sofa, lounge chairs, love seat, ottoman and occasional tables. New furniture for the bedroom includes dressers in different sizes, an 85-inch clothespress, writing table, mirror, headboard, night stands, lingerie chest and a bench. Theirs is a baby bassinet, a hot water heater, older carrels for cooking.

Carrots keep best when stored in the refrigerator in moisture-proof wrap or in a covered container. The next day after spraying, I found hundreds of dead spittle bugs.

CARROTS

Carrots can help out your food budget. An average serving usually costs under three cents and seldom more than five cents.

There is usually a good supply of carrots in most grocery stores year-round. And you can serve them in a number of ways—cooked, grated in salads or as snacks.

Carrots are rich in Vitamin A and are very low in calories. When shopping for carrots, remember that the brightest ones are the oldest and may not be as tender as younger carrots. So buy pale carrots for salads and relishes, and bright-colored, older carrots for cooking.

BREAD WRAPPERS

Have a bread wrapper or plastic bag gotten too near a hot toaster, electric fry pan or percolator? If so, here is a solution. You can moisten a facial tissue with nail polish and use it to wipe the toaster, fry pan or percolator. The next day after spraying, I found hundreds of dead spittle bugs.
